CONTEXT

" Today, the world and India need a skilled workforce. If we have to promote the development of our country then our mission has to be 'skill development' and 'Skilled India'. Millions and millions of Indian youth should acquire the skills which could contribute towards making India a modern country. I also want to create a pool of young people who are able to create jobs and the ones who are not capable of creating jobs and do not have the opportunities, they must be in a position to face their counterparts in any corner of the world while keeping their heads high by virtue of their hard work and their dexterity of hands and win the hearts of people around the world through their skills. We want to go for the capacity building of such young people. My brothers and sisters, having taken a resolve to enhance the skill development at a highly rapid pace, I want to accomplish this." Hon'ble Prime Minister of India, Shri Narendra Modi

Presently, India is one of the youngest nations in the world with the average age of the population of 29 years. This gaits up to an arduous task and a gigantic prospect for the inclusive future of work. To harness inclusively from this demographic dividend, we need to continuously train our workforce with employable skills and knowledge so that they can contribute substantively to the economic and social growth of the country. Scantiness of highly trained workforce, as well as non-employability of large sections of the educated youth, who possess comparatively lesser skills is the dichotomy which needs to be addressed in a pragmatic manner. Technology plays a vital role in reducing knowledge economy Gap. It must meet the rising aspirations of its youth in which majority are either engaged in informal economy or out of workforce due to discourage workers effect. The Skill India Initiatives will have a trickle-down effect if we are able to holistically participate in the labor market and meaningfully contribute to the growth of the country and its citizens. It is in this context, that the V.V. Giri National Labour Institute is organizing an online training programme on Developing Skill Development Strategies for Women Workers in the Informal Economy with the aim to discuss issues pertaining to inculcating women in decent and dignified world of work through skill development.
